"Ask Foch!" Is Allies' Word To Germany

ITALY CAPTURES HALF MILLION MEN

YANKEES DELIVER CRUSHING BLOW TO FOE ON MEUSE NEAR STENAY

Force Crossing of River At Brielle Over Pontoon Bridge Constructed Under Heavy Shell Fire.—British Press Advantage East of Valenciennes.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
With the American Army on the Sedan Front, Nov. 5, 6 P.M.—The American army has thrown a formidable force across the Meuse to the east bank. The enemy resistance here has been broken to the point of demoralizing and the Americans are pushing northward toward Stenay.

By this afternoon the enemy was in full retreat northward. He was offering little opposition and the roads toward the north were seen to be full of the fleeing enemy.

The Americans pressed close upon the heels of the Germans and made their retirement as difficult as possible.

The American casualties were very light despite the opposition to the crossing of the river.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Washington, Nov. 5.—Austrian prisoners captured by the Italians before the armistice took effect yesterday are estimated now at half a million and the booty taken includes 250,000 horses.

An official dispatch from Rome today telling results of the final Austrian defeat says in the army of the Trentino alone over 150,000 prisoners fell into the hands of the Italians.

GERMANS FIGHT BITTERLY

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
With the American Army on the Sedan Front, Nov. 5, (1:15 p.m.)—Bitter fighting is taking place today along the Meuse river. American patrols again have succeeded in crossing the river at Brielle on a pontoon bridge constructed under fire.

At other points along the front the Americans were reconnoitering other crossings.

The Germans have blown up the bridge across the Meuse between Lanuville and the west bank, and the important town of Stenay, on the east bank.

YANKS TAKE RIVER CROSSING.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Washington, Nov. 5.—Victorious attacks by the American First army on its entire front are reported by General Pershing in his evening communiqué for Monday. On the extreme right, breaking down the last efforts of the enemy to hold the high ground the Americans drove through the valley of the Meuse and the forest of Dieuleu and occupied the important river crossing at Stenay.

ALLIES NEARING GHENT

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
With the Allied Forces in France and Belgium, Nov. 5.—The allied lines this morning were about one mile and a half from Ghent toward which the allied troops continued to press.

QUEEN WITNESSES ATTACK

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
With the Allied Armies in France and Belgium, Nov. 5.—Allied troops today began the siege of the city of Ghent, already surrounded virtually on three sides. The assault on the city was witnessed by Queen Elizabeth of Belgium and hundreds of her noncombatant subjects.

BRITISH CAPTURE 1,000 GERMANS WITHDRAW IN LE QUESNOY FORT ALONG FRENCH FRONT

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
London, Nov. 5.—British troops in their offensive southeast of Valenciennes have captured the fortified town of Le Quesnoy, after having completely surrounded it. Field Marshal Haig announced today. The entire garrison of more than 1,000 men was taken with the citadel.

The French First army resumed the attack this morning and is making progress.

Between Sissonne and Chateau Potier, a front of more than 15 miles, the French have penetrated the flanking line of the Germans. The French are making a general advance from east of St. Quentin-le-Petit to the outskirts of Herpy.

Further ground has been gained in Mortain Forest. The village of Eth, five miles southeast of Valenciennes has been taken.

BLAST KILLS FOUR.
ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
London, Nov. 5.—Four persons were killed here today in an explosion which demolished part of the plant of the Metal Disintegrating company, a concern making aluminum alloys.

FORM AUSTRIAN CORPS.
ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Amsterdam, Monday, Nov. 4.—The state council at Vienna has issued an appeal to the German people of Austria in which it is declared the country is in danger and the army breaking up in disorder. The appeal exhorts the sons voluntarily to join the Austrian army corps.

SAYS GERMANY WILL ACCEPT.

London, Nov. 5, via Montreal.—In sending the news that the allies have agreed on the armistice conditions for Germany, the Times' Paris correspondent says that the allied successes on the French front leave little doubt of Germany's acceptance.

ELECTION NEWS BY ADVOCATE 'PHONES TONIGHT.

By order of the Board of Health, election bulletins will not be posted in Newark tonight. The Advocate stereopticon will not be used and no bulletins will be posted in the Advocate windows.

Four telephone trunk lines lead to The Advocate office. For election news call one of these numbers: Automatic 23121, 23123, 23125, 23127 or Bell telephone 59-3. If one number rings "busy" try another.

The wire service will be heavily taxed tonight. The four trunk lines can not carry the service. Don't become impatient. In using the wire be brief because some other person will be wanting to use the line.

SURRENDER OF NAVAL BASE, WITHDRAWAL OF HUN TO LINE BEHIND RHINE DEMANDED

Recent reports from the allied conference at Versailles state that two of the demands probably included in the armistice terms given Germany were that the great naval and U-boat base at Helgoland be surrendered and that the German armies be withdrawn from invaded soil to a line thirty miles behind the Rhine. These demands considerably the greater part of German territory, include themselves and give the allies control of the Rhine and the important industrial area along its shores. The map shows the location of Helgoland, the present battle line, and the line to which Germany would be forced to retire. The shaded portion shows the invaded territory Germany now occupies on the western front which would be freed of German forces along with the invaded soil on the other fronts.

AMERICAN DRIVE IS REAL DANGER TO HUN TROOPS

General Liggett's Armies Less Than Eight Miles From Montmedy Line

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

Paris, Nov. 5.—A battle which is believed here to be decisive is now going on. It is being waged in two sections. In the north the blow delivered by the British armies of Generals Horne, Byng and Rawlinson, and by the French, under General Debony, is a threat levelled at one of the flanks of the east pocket formed by the German lines from Holland to Metz.

The object of this offensive is to drive dangerous wedge either north of the Sambre in the direction of Mons or south of the river in the direction of Avesnes and Mauberge. The result may be a compromise retreat of the German armies in Belgium or those still between the Oise and the Aisne.

Excellent results have been realized so far. The Sambre river and canal have been crossed. This was the last line of resistance west of the front which may be soon reached in that region. According to latest information, the allied advance continues notwithstanding desperate resistance by the enemy.

The second section of the attack is being conducted by Generals Gouraud and Liggett on the Meuse. This is the great strategic offensive which the Germans have always feared and which they sought to make impossible by storming Verdun in 1916.

The aim of the Franco-American offensive is to pinch out the whole pocket. American troops are at Bapaume. That is less than eight miles from Lamotte station, northwest of Montmedy on the great shuttle railroad running between Thionville, Sedan and Metz.

Even better, the opening of a fresh attack by the Americans on the east bank of the Meuse may bring them into the Montmedy-Longuyon region. That may mean, not only the cutting off of the railroad, but making it impossible for the enemy to form upon the Meuse line, because that front could no longer be joined up with that of Thionville.

FOE CONSTRUCTS TANK TRAPS AS LAST STAND

With the American Army, Northwest of Verdun, Monday, Nov. 4, (11 p.m.)

German forces are strengthening the Meuse line north of the American front.

There are indications that this work was resumed during the last few days and that soldiers are laboring on it day and night.

Roberts agrees that this strengthening operation extends along the line running from Mozerolles to Montmedy, Longuyon and Diebenkorn.

In various places in front of this line, where the Germans have expected to make a last stand in France, tank traps already are completed. These traps are 100 yards long, 10 yards wide and 10 yards deep. They are covered with boards hidden by earth and sod.

TERMS IN HANDS OF GENERALISSIMO

GERMAN HIGH COMMAND MUST REQUEST ARMY LEADER TO SUBMIT CONDITIONS OF ARMISTICE AGREED UPON

WASHINGTON SAYS AGREEMENT REACHED AT PARIS CONFERENCE

Terms Are Signed and "Diplomatic Unity Is Achieved Under Conditions of Utmost Harmony," Lansing Declares—Believe Germany Will Accept Terms.

London (via Montreal) Nov. 5.—The allies have decided that Germany must apply to Marshal Foch, the allied commander-in-chief for an armistice, Premier Lloyd George stated in the house of commons today.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Diplomats and officials here believe the terms of armistice for Germany signed for the United States and the allies at Paris yesterday are in the hands of General Foch for presentation to the German commanders on the western front.

There has been no official explanation of the method determined upon of acquainting the Germans with the surrender conditions under which they may end the war.

Until today it had been assumed that the terms would be sent to Berlin through diplomatic channels because the appeal for an armistice came that way, but the almost unanimous opinion in well-informed quarters now is that the matter will be handled entirely on the field by the allied supreme commander.

Whatever may be the channel of communication, it is evident that no time has been lost and that an immediate reply is regarded as a possibility. President Wilson having cancelled plans for casting his vote at Princeton, N. J., remained at the White House throughout the day.

The text of the armistice terms had not been received, when arrangements were made for the usual cabinet meeting. The president and his advisers were fully informed as to every important detail, however, before the document was signed.

Armistice terms upon which hostilities may be brought to an immediate end were unanimously agreed upon and signed yesterday at Paris by representatives of the allied and the United States government.

They have not yet been made public but military men here feel certain that they are no less drastic than those accepted by Austria, which strip that nation of its war-making machinery, both on land and sea, and compel the evacuation not only of occupied territory, but of part of its own soil.

Official announcement of the signing of the armistice terms to be offered to Germany was made last night by Secretary Lansing, who added only that "diplomatic unity has been achieved under conditions of utmost harmony."

If Germany accepts the conditions laid down by the Versailles conference, she is expected to make known her decision without delay.

It is felt confident that the conditions to be proposed to Germany must nothing short of unconditional surrender, many military and diplomatic observers here believe they will be accepted. With her last and principal ally out of the war and her armies crumbling under the constant hammering of Marshal Foch, Germany, they say, must realize the futility of continuing the unequal struggle.

YANKEE FIGHTERS TAKE STRONG FOE POSITION

BOLSHEVIKI NOW IS ASKING PEACE TERMS

London, Nov. 5.—The Bolshevik government of Russia, it is reported from Petrograd, has handed the neutral minister a note for transmission to the entente nations asking for the opening of peace negotiations in order that hostilities between the allies and the Soviet government may be ended, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen.

The note asks the allies to decide upon the time and place for the holding of the negotiations.

HOLD DEMONSTRATION TO CONTINUE WAR

NOTE CORRESPONDENT DIES.

London, Nov. 5.—An announcement is made of the death of Laurence Jerrold, the correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph here and the dean of the English correspondents in Paris. His death was due to pneumonia following an attack of influenza.

OHIO BOYS PRISONED.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Names of 112 officers and 32 enlisted men in German prison camps were announced today by the war department. Included in the list were:

Wounded, camp unknown: Ralph R. Root, Cleveland.

In good health, camp unknown: Wilfred Edward Kauffman, Massillon.

NOTED CORRESPONDENT DIES.

Pris. Nov. 5.—An announcement is made of the death of Laurence Jerrold, the correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph here and the dean of the English correspondents in Paris. His death was due to pneumonia following an attack of influenza.

Treat your beauty fairly - keep your skin clear with Resinol

No matter how pretty your features are, you cannot be truly attractive with a red, rough, pimply complexion. But Resinol Ointment aided by Resinol Soap will usually make poor skins clear, fresh and charming.

Resinol Ointment contains nothing to injure the tenderest skin, and is so nearly flesh-colored it can be used on exposed surfaces without attracting undue attention. Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment are sold by all druggists. Why not try them?

The Best Cough Syrup Is Home-made

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have the best cough remedy you've tried.

You're probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home. Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a good pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough, usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for 2½ ounces of Pinex with full directions, and don't forget anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

GEN. GROENER GETS LUDENDORFF'S JOB

Retreat of Enemy Through Lorraine Is made Impossible by American Advance.

With the German retreat retarded through Lorraine virtually cut off by the American forces west of the Meuse, British, French, Belgian and American troops are striking hard at the enemy's lines in northern France and Belgium. Field Marshal Hindenburg launched a terrific attack of Valenciennes yesterday and have made progress which seems to threaten the German hold on Mons and Maubourguet. Ghent is now virtually isolated by the French, Belgians and Americans. At last accounts the lines of the allies were close to the city on the west north and northeast, and it is said that allied cavalry has been operating in the outskirts of the city.

General Pershing's forces are now within 10 miles of Sedan and within the range of the railroad south of that city. In fact it is said that the fire of the American guns has cut this great artery of communication and that it is useless for the enemy in the transporting of troops or supplies eastward from the Aisne and Oise fronts where large forces of Germans are still holding their lines against the French.

It appears that the familiar "pincer" method which Marshal Foch began using on the Soisson-Rheims sector of the front is now in full operation once more and each day seems to bring new peril to the enemy legions caught within the slowly closing jaws. Since Saturday noon these jaws have approached each other an aggregate of eleven miles. The lower jaw now rests at Beauvois, just west of the Meuse. The other is close to the eastern edge of the great Mormal forest west of Maubourguet. The advance against Ghent is another development of the same movement and further imperils the only avenue of retreat remaining to the Teutonic armies.

Ruthenian Ukrainian troops have clashed with the Poles and have taken Lemberg, the capital of Galicia, and Przemysl, the fortress in Galicia which was the scene of repeated sanguinary conflicts during the first three years of the war.

Czech and Austro German troops are marching against each other in Bohemia and a battle is imminent. Little or nothing of the true state of affairs in Germany can be learned probably because of the strict censorship that prevails. It is known however that the demand for the abdication of Emperor William is growing and that Bolsheviks are active in many parts of the country.

CHAS. M. WING IS NEW PRESIDENT COLUMBUS BANK

Reorganization of the New First National bank of Columbus took place yesterday, following the election of L. J. Cameron, vice president of the Central National bank of Cleveland, as a director to succeed his uncle the late Charles R. Mayers. Charles M. Wing, vice president, was elected president in place of Mr. Mayers. Charles R. Shields was promoted from cashier to first vice president and Henry C. Werner was elected second vice president and E. W. Swisher, third vice president. Edgar L. Abbott, for many years assistant cashier, was chosen cashier. J. Russell Milbourne was added to the board of directors.

Messrs. Wing, Shields and Swisher are all former Newark residents.

The new president of the New First National is the son of the late L. B. Wing who for many years was prominent in Newark banking circles.

BYRON PRYOR GIVEN LIEUTENANT'S RANK

Byron Bell Pryor, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pryor of Central avenue, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the signal corps at Camp Vail, N. J.

Lieut. Pryor was a candidate for commission at the first training camp at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, but while there was ill and failed to pass the physical examination. He returned to Denison University where he was instructor in physics and graduated last year with the class of 1918.

Then he enlisted in the signal corps and was stationed at College Park, Md. His officer's commission received him for the training camp at Camp Vail and word of his receiving a commission was received today. He has not been assigned.

Lieut. Gen. Groener.

Lieut. Gen. Groener, Prussian minister of war, has taken the seat at German headquarters made vacant by General Ludendorff's resignation, according to a report from Berlin.

Copenhagen. General Groener became notorious for his savage suppression of the great German munition strike early in 1916, and was recently bitterly attacked in the Reichstag for cruelty and oppression in collecting food and raw materials in the Ukraine.

NEWARK SOLDIER DIES IN FRANCE

Pneumonia Claims Charles F. Andrews, Message from War Department Says—was With 84th.

Charles Frederick Andrews, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Andrews of 98 East Channel street, died in service in France on October 14. This word was received yesterday by his parents in a letter written by First Lieutenant Neunuecker who stated Private Andrews had succumbed to an attack of bronchial pneumonia.

The deceased left Newark on June 24th of this year for Camp Sherman, Michigan, but had been employed at Latting, Michigan, but was transferred to a New York quota. He is thought to have left this country about September 3 from Camp Mills, and the only word recent concerning him since that time was his safe arrival card.

When employed in Newark he was with the Heisey company as an oil well driller. Surviving are the parents and five sisters, Dorothy, Mary, Bertha, Evelyn, Charlotte and Margaret.

Private Andrews was a member of Company G, 335th Infantry, 84th Division.

WASHINGTON HEARS THAT OLD LICKING "GOES OVER TOP"

The Licking County War Savings committee is just in receipt of the following letter from the Treasury Department, Washington:

We are just in receipt of advices from State Headquarters of the Ohio War Savings Committee, to the effect that you have secured your quota in cash sales of $26 per capita for Licking county.

Accept our congratulations upon your splendid success. The fact that you have already obtained and even exceeded your quota in cash sales, indicates the fine patriotic work which you are doing, and will always reflect great credit upon the citizenship of your county.

Please convey to the members of your organization and to the people of Licking county the appreciation of the War Loan Organization for their patriotic support.

With best wishes for your continued success. I am,

Very truly yours,

H. E. BENEDICT,

Executive secretary, War Loan Organization.

GRANVILLE OPENS SCHOOLS AGAIN

Ban is Lifted With Restrictions Prescribed by the Board of Health.

(Special to the Advocate)

Granville, Nov. 6.—After five weeks of quarantine on all public meetings, interest naturally centers round this situation, and the possibilities of lifting the ban. Dr. C. J. Lovelace for the health board, has ordered that the public school building be thoroughly fumigated from attic to basement, and with certain restrictions, school in town will open tomorrow. There seems to be no infection among the children, and where there is a case of influenza in a family, no child from that family will be allowed to attend school. Nor will any child be admitted who is even suffering with a cold. Other meetings will be called off until Sunday, when it is hoped, the church may reopen.

The many friends of William C. Sprague, 81, Beta Theta Pi, one of the leading sons of the older alumni will be saddened at the information just received in Granville of the death of his son William H. Sprague, who as a member of the naval aviation corps died his death some where overseas.

Mr. Sprague's address is No. 108 South LaSalle street, Chicago. Granville relatives of the young man are G. C. Roberts, Miss Mary Roberts, Misses Lilly and Myrtle Jones.

Mrs. A. K. Follett received word last night of the sudden death Monday of her late husband's cousin, Dewey Follett at his home in Marietta. Mr. Follett, a son of the late Martin Follett, a prominent jurist of Ohio, with a large family connection in Granville, New York, Zanesville and Cincinnati, was no less valued for his genial social qualities which won for him hosts of warm friends wherever he went. Mr. Follett's death was sudden and painless. He leaves a wife and two daughters to mourn his loss. Funeral services will be held in Marietta, Wednesday.

Columbus papers are responsible for the statement that the requirements for entrance into the students' army training corps have been relaxed. According to Col. George L. Converse, military inspector for Ohio, Indiana and West Virginia, the commandant and president of each college where the quota is not filled are given authority to admit other men, who in education, experience and personality seem to be promising material for officers. Already more than 17,000 of those registered as high school graduates and others interested, may apply to the nearest college having a student army corps or to district headquarters at 29 South Third street, Columbus. Those induced into the corps will be placed on active duty with the status of a private in the army and will receive $30 a month.

The Defense Council has inducted 326 men, and 50 more are awaiting induction, thus leaving about twenty-five places which may be filled by applicants who possess qualifications demanded by the district military inspector, but who have not met all the requirements for admission to college.

The war department, considering that fraternities and military discipline are incompatible in the very nature of things, feels that it is to the very best interest of the service that the operation of the fraternities, where units of the students' army training corps are established be suspended for the present emergency. It further feels that the best interests of the fraternities themselves require such suspension. Realizing however that the fraternity organizations must be kept intact to insure the resumption of fraternity activities after the present emergency, the war department expresses no objection to the holding of such meetings as are of a purely business character.

Kenneth Ullman '16, Sigma Chi, who is in arms service at Camp Sherman, has been made a corporal, and this after weeks of clerical work in the personnel office.

Miss Harriet Messenger has accepted a position with the Chamber of Commerce, Newark.

Miss Dorothy Ackley, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ackley, has gone to Columbus to assume the duties of a clerical nature, in a government position in that city.

Mrs. Nelson Rupp, who was formerly Miss Madeline Eddicry, Denison, 17, is visiting her Chi Psi Delta sorority sister at Shepardson college.

Arthur Benjie Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Evans, had the misfortune to break his right arm yesterday while cranking Clarence Neely's Ford machine. Both young men are employed by the Columbus Natural Gas company.

The Ohio Bristle convention scheduled for Dayton in October and postponed to November 11, has been finally called off entirely on account of the flu.

PIES AND CAKES ON BILL OF FARE

Columbus Grove Man Recovers His Appetite and Feels Great.

An interesting story is told by A. A. Starkweather, well-known implement dealer of Columbus Grove, relative to how he regained his appetite and rid himself of long-standing stomach ills.

It was Tanlac according to Mr. Starkweather, that brought about this great change in his physical condition. He says:

"I had been suffering with my stomach for several years previous to the day I started to take Tanlac. After meals gas would form and cause a heavy, bloated feeling. Any rich foods, such as pie and cake, were especially bad for me. Also meats gave me indigestion.

"Quite naturally this wore away my strength. I was gradually becoming so weak that I knew something had to be done. I tried Tanlac and it proved to be just exactly what I needed. It relieved me almost from the start. In a short time I could eat heartily and not have to suffer with indigestion. Even pies and cakes do not hurt me now."

"In my opinion Tanlac is an excellent tonic."

Hundreds have found relief with Tanlac. It is an ideal tonic, tissue builder and strength maker.

Tanlac may be obtained in Newark at Erman's Arcade Drug Store. Tanlac may also be procured at the Evans Pharmacy (Warden Hotel block, east side of square, Newark), and the Hebron Drug store, Hebron.—Advt.

SIX MEALS A DAY ARE ENJOYED? BY SOLDIER

Three of Them Were "Coming Up" However, Smucker Says—Attends Engineers' School.

"Six meals a day—three up and three down," is the way Corporal Harold Smucker describes his impressions of his sea trip to France. In a letter to his mother here, his experience with seasickness takes precedence over the fact that his convoy encountered either an enemy submarine or a floating mine for he tells of the destroyers firing on it. "Apparently it was destroyed, for we landed safe and sound," his letter says. He has been detached from his company and sent to an engineer's school where he now holds the rank of corporal.

Extracts from his letter follows:

"I've hesitated several times since I landed and while on board ship in writing you for the want of something to say. Could easily write several volumes but will leave that until I get home."

I suppose you have by this time received my card relating to my safe arrival. Had a fine trip over, good weather and a moderately calm sea except one day it was a little rocky. Had six good meals a day, three up and three down and since we have been on land we have had excellent meals. The trip across didn't effect me much to my surprise. Naturally some got sea sick. However I never imagined the ocean would be so wide, nor contain so much water.

This is a funny old country we are in now. It's quite damp here, rains every day, and rather cold at night.

Everything is built of stone and built to last for centuries. The houses are very peculiar characterized by about a dozen or more chimneys on each house. Everything of course seems more or less peculiar and many things quite funny. This is the second European country we've been in and probably won't be here very long. We are in a good camp. I couldn't tell you the name of it because I haven't heard it as yet myself. Perhaps when we finally get located I'll be able to tell you where I am and more about things in general.

I must tell you we did encounter something coming over. It was either a submarine or floating mine as we could see the U. S. destroyers firing at it. Whatever it was they must have destroyed it for we pulled into port safe and sound.

September 29th.

Well, we are now "somewhere in France;" a beautiful part of the country not as warm as July. We are billeted in farm houses at present, and mighty nice people where I am; grapes seem to be their main crop and we can buy all you can carry for one franc, getting along fine with the French language and customs. Everything is fine, I am well and I hope you are. Our mail hasn't caught up with us as yet but we hope to get a letter or two real soon. It's now 21 o'clock French time, so will mail this tomorrow.

In another letter, he says: "Another thing that has impressed me is the American Red Cross canteen. They are scattered throughout France and I'm in one now. This is the second one we've been in since leaving the Co., 24 hours ago. So if you have any money to give away this is the place.

I must tell you we did encounter something coming over. It was either a submarine or floating mine as we could see the U. S. destroyers firing at it. Whatever it was they must have destroyed it for we pulled into port safe and sound.

September 29th.

Well, we are now "somewhere in France;" a beautiful part of the country not as warm as July. We are billeted in farm houses at present, and mighty nice people where I am; grapes seem to be their main crop and we can buy all you can carry for one franc, getting along fine with the French language and customs. Everything is fine, I am well and I hope you are. Our mail hasn't caught up with us as yet but we hope to get a letter or two real soon. It's now 21 o'clock French time, so will mail this tomorrow.

In another letter, he says: "Another thing that has impressed me is the American Red Cross canteen. They are scattered throughout France and I'm in one now. This is the second one we've been in since leaving the Co., 24 hours ago. So if you have any money to give away this is the place.

A third letter says: "I'm now located once more but for how long I couldn't say. From all my travels you might suspicion that I have accepted a drummer's job, but much to the contrary. I'm still with Uncle Sam. As far as seeing scenery, this place is unequalled. I am in a very beautiful part of France now. In fact every time I move it gets better. I've left my company as I told you and am now with a fine lot of men as I could wish. Nearly everyone a college man and some from Ohio State that I know.

The climate here is very peculiar. Just as warm as summer during the day and at night cool.

KIRKERSVILLE

Kirkersville grange has offered its lodger room and the banquet hall below, including the spacious kitchen, fully equipped for the use of the soldiers in transit. This is the war department to take the overnight quarters landed in the village Sunday night. It might be noted in the meantime that since the grange took over the school property two years ago that in remodeling and outfitting the building for their use that $5,000 has passed through the hands of the treasurer and the order proposes to make more extensive additions to the utility and beauty of the edifice.

Chester Wilson of Camp Sherman arrived home the last of the week for a short visit.

Mrs. Francis Walker and son Buster of Columbus were visiting relatives here Sunday.

O. G. Dr. Omkon. Mholopee Fr. diu uuu George Adelie was in town on business Saturday.

Curtis Rickley came over from Columbus the last of the week to visit his parents.

Robert Randal of Columbus was in town the last of the week on business. Elsie Timmons of Columbus visited her people Sunday.

Mr. Donomson of Summit last week made a bulk purchase of the farms of T. R. Clark, Sam'l Rough and Frank W. North of the village.

J. B. and Frank Moore of Pataskala called on Mrs. Mary Moore, Sunday.

On September 14, 1918, in the region of Ville Cy, he attacked four Fokker enemy planes at an altitude of 3,000 meters. After a sharp and hot action, he succeeded in shooting one down in flames and dispersing the other three. For the following act of extraordinary heroism, a bronze oak leaf is awarded to be worn on the distinguished service cross, awarded October 16, 1918.

On September 15, 1918, in the region of Bois de Warlie, he encountered six enemy planes who were in the act of bombing friendly troops who were being withdrawn. Undeterred by their superior numbers he毫不hesitatingly attacked them and succeeded in shooting one down in flames and completely breaking the formation of the others.

On September 16, he again attacked the same group of planes who were again bombing friendly troops.

There is nothing else like Lux! Lux comes in delicate, transparent flakes. They melt instantly in hot water. You whisk them into rich, creamy suds. Such a lather! Thick and creamy. All white and foamy and bubbling.

Sheerest chiffons, lustrous silks come like new from the pure Lux suds

No rubbing to shrink and stiffen woolens. Lux leaves blankets soft and fleecy

Buy the daintiest things - Use them often Nothing is too delicate for these suds

THE next time you long to purchase some lovely, exquisite blouse or bit of finery, don't hesitate because you're afraid it won't stand laundering.

In the wonderful Lux suds, you can wash the sheerest, filmiest fabrics, and they will come out just like new!

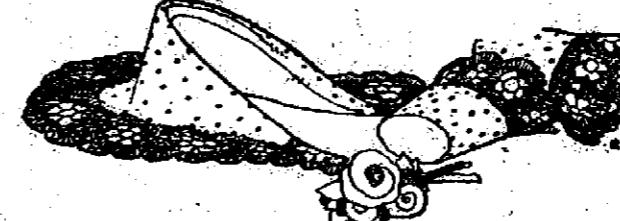

Lux suds! You cannot really appreciate how rich and cleansing they are, until you actually see them and use them yourself.

There is nothing else like Lux! Lux comes in delicate, transparent flakes. They melt instantly in hot water. You whisk them into rich, creamy suds. Such a lather! Thick and creamy. All white and foamy and bubbling.

Rubbing ruins dainty fabrics

Into these creamy suds you dip your garment. Don't rub—just work the article about briskly in the lather. The dirt dissolves and drops right out into the suds!

Rubbing soap on a delicate material, and rubbing it out again is what ruins the fabric. It weakens and breaks the delicate threads.

It twists and pulls the garment out of shape. And in spite of careful rinsing, bits of soap usually cling to the fabric to stain and discolor it.

Lux will not injure the finest materials, won't turn silks yellow, won't injure even chiffons. You can use Lux for anything that water alone will not harm.

Wash these things the Lux way

Silk Curtains	Lace Jabots	Sweaters
Lace Curtains	Satin Collars	Blankets
All Fine Fabrics	and Cuffs	Baby's Woolens
Silk Underwear	Gorgeette and Crepe de	Fine Table Linens
Silk Stockings	Chine Blouses	Washable Gloves
Lace Collars

When you wash these delicate fabrics, use Lux suds.

No matter how delicate the fabric, it will come like new from the wonderful Lux suds.

A tablespoonful to a blouse

Simply tumble a tablespoonful of dainty Lux flakes into half a basinful of boiling or very hot water, and whisk into a thick lather. Add cold water until luke warm. Dip the blouse through the foamy suds many times—squeeze the suds through it. Don't rub. Then rinse three times in clear, lukewarm water. You squeeze the water out—do not wring. Dry it in the shade. When nearly dry, press with a warm iron—never a hot one.

This Lux way is so much easier than the old way of washing. Your dainty clothes will last so much longer—your silks won't lose their soft coloring or turn yellow. Your woolens won't grow hard and stiff.

Never trust your precious things to the old way of washing. Try the Lux way today. Get your package from your grocer, druggist or department store—Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

TODAY'S ELECTION.

Perhaps never in the history of the county has a political campaign been so short as the one just closing today.

It was unique in another respect namely in the absence of all political meetings.

The opening of the campaign was postponed by general agreement in order to float the Fourth Liberty Loan and then when the guns were ready to fire along came the Spanish influenza epidemic putting a ban on all public gatherings.

Both of these features may affect the size of today's vote. The absence of more than 1500 of Licking county's voters, men who are in the service of the army and the fact that hundreds of voters are unable to go to the polls today because of illness will no doubt cut down the vote to a point far below normal.

There are approximately 14,000 voters in Licking county but it seems probable that not more than 11,000 votes will be cast today. Two years ago Governor Cox carried Licking county by exactly 1,000 majority over Frank B. Willis. Some of the political leaders believe this majority today over Mr. Willis will be more than 1,000, others that it may be 500 or 600 while adherents of the Republican party have expressed the belief that Governor Cox's majority of two years ago will be entirely wiped out. The peculiar features of the campaign make an election prediction a bit hazardous but judging from the way the political straws seem to be blowing we believe that Licking Democrats today will elect the entire local ticket and give Governor Cox a majority of 700 or more. Tomorrow's paper will tell.

Now that practically all of the day's ballots are in the boxes, wonder if the editor of our esteemed contemporary really did question Senator J. Henry Miller's sincerity on the wet-dry issue? If he did, he stands alone because we don't know a single soul who for a moment has doubted that Mr. Miller is as "dry" as you make 'em.

The country stood by Lincoln in the civil war and by McKinley in the Spanish war. We have faith that the American people today stand with Woodrow Wilson—the greatest man in the world today.

It's now almost over—all but the counting and the payment of the bets. Resents the purchase of War Savings

ANOTHER LIBERTY LOAN.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has announced that, no matter what the results of the pending overtures for peace may be, there will be another Liberty Loan. To use his expression, "We are going to have to finance peace for a while just as we have had to finance war."

There are over 2,000,000 United States soldiers abroad. If we transport these men back to the United States at the rate of 300,000 a month, it will be over half year before they are all returned. Our army, therefore, must be maintained victualled, and clothed for many months after peace is an actuality.

The American people, therefore, having supported the Liberty Loan with a patriotism that future historians will love to extol, will have an opportunity to show the same patriotism in financing the just and conclusive victorious peace whenever it comes.

Not for a moment, however, is the Treasury acting on any assumption that peace is to come soon. Until peace is actually assured the attitude of the treasury and the attitude of the whole United States government is for the most vigorous prosecution of the war, and the motto of force against Germany without stint or limit will be acted up to until peace is an absolute accomplishment fact.

One more Liberty loan, at least, is certain. The Fourth Liberty loan was popularly called the "Fighting Loan"; the next loan may be a peace loan. Whatever the conditions, the loan must be prepared for and its success rendered certain and absolute. The government also announces another two billion dollar War Savings Stamp issue for 1919.

THE DIPLOMATIC GAME.

Up to now the war has been fought with soldiers and material weapons. Seeing defeat in the field approaching, Germany is now trying the weapons of her subtle and crafty diplomacy, through the power of shame and lies.

Germany wants to talk. She wants the allies to talk. She believes that the allies have divergent interests and opinions on many points, and that in free countries where a free press exists, it is very easy for divisions to start. If she can get us all to talking peace terms at the council table, she believes that we and our allies will get to quarreling among ourselves, so that we will quit fighting. Then Germany will be able to save a good part of her stolen goods out of the wreck of her original plans.

Therefore our government has done well to refer armistice terms to the military advisers. We must take their advice. We have made great and grievous sacrifices, and we do not wish them to prove fruitless. We must impose terms severe enough so that Germany will no longer be able to make war. Territory stolen by Germany must be returned. Her usurping soldiers must be brought home. The damage she has done must be repaired by her. Some of the border fortresses with which she menaces the peace of the world must be surrendered.

Some people seem to think that the German people are better than their rulers, and that there will be no more trouble if Germany becomes a Democracy. Yet the German people applauded their rulers as long as they were winning battles. They rejoiced over their ruthless acts to neutral countries. The rank and file of the soldiers perpetrated the grossest barbarities. It will not be safe to place too much reliance on changes of government that exist largely on paper.

ADVERTISED STORES.

When a store advertises judiciously, it attracts attention and it increases its business. But the increase of receipts is not usually equalled by a corresponding increase of expense. Most stores could double their business without doubling the number of clerks, or doubling their rent, light, heat, and other charges.

Consequently the charge per article for this so-called "over-head" expense, keeps decreasing as the business grows. If receipts double, and costs of doing business increase only 50 per cent, it is manifest that the overhead cost for each article sold is proportionately less. As volume of business increases, the business is more economically done and the cost of moving each separate article is reduced. The public gets the difference in lower prices.

LOANS TO OUR ALLIES.

The extension of a credit of $9,000,000 to Belgium made recently makes the total advances by the United States to Belgium $80,020,000.

The total amount advanced to date to all of our associates in the war against Germany is $7,529,476,000.

W. S. S. SALES.

Including cash received in the Treasury department on October 21 from the sale of War Savings securities, the total treasury receipts from this source amounted to $96,452,415.85. This represents the purchase of War Savings stamps to the total maturity value of approximately $950,824,474.10.

The sale of W. S. S. in Ohio is greater than any other state in the union. Twenty-seven of Ohio's 88 counties, including Licking county, have sold their quota of stamps and one county Morrow has already over-subscribed its quota 50 per cent.

The Advocate has been complimented upon the character of the campaign conducted through these columns. The kind words that come to us are much appreciated. This newspaper indulged in no "oorbacks" and conducted a clean campaign from start to finish.

The Board of Health directs us to flash no returns tonight, to use neither a stereopticon nor window bulletins. This order is due to the influenza epidemic and to the desire of the authorities to keep people from congregating.

Some merchants think because many people pass their doors every day, they don't need to advertise. The only trouble with that theory is that the people pass on to visit some store that does advertise.

Being urged to conserve labor, some people are conserving it by waiting until the wind blows the leaves over their neighbors' lawns.

ENJOYING LIFE BEYOND FIFTY.

(Los Angeles Times)
When you have passed, say, your fiftieth birthday anniversary, foxy old Mr. Time puts the skids under you and greases them good and plenty.

It is appalling, then, how quickly the days and the weeks and the months pass. You start in on Monday morning, and before you know it it Saturday night again. Even the years slip by us though you were riding through life on a roller coaster.

The thing to do then, brother, is to put on the brakes. Slow up and get a little more enjoyment out of the life.

Some men think that just the other way is the best method to adopt, and are convinced that they are making a mistake. Their idea is that the thing to do when one grows gray and bald is to keep up with the procession, wear pinchback cloths, silk socks and a sailor hat with a polka-dot band.

But, if you do that, all you achieve is an acceleration of the pace. It is a pathetic form of camouflage that deceives no one, and yourself least of all. When you are 50 and over, you know it, and every one else knows it.

When a man is 50 he should have a home in the country, or least out of the town. He should awake before dawn and say good-morning to the sun, sip his glass of water deliberately instead of gulping it down, move serenely, take his time.

When night comes he should be able to say, "Well, this has been a fine, long day," instead of saying, "For the love of Mike, where has the day gone?"

Then, when old age comes, you will be able to say with the sage: "Old age is the night of life, but it is the night not beautiful with stars?"

A TRIBUTE TO ITALY.

(Columbus Dispatch)
We have so many allies or associates in this war that all of them have not come in for their full share of praise. We are so accustomed to referring to Great Britain and France; that we have to some extent overlooked Italy and what she has suffered and what she has done for the cause. Hence it is pertinent to quote the following from the London Daily Telegraph:

"Through good fortune and through bad, through earlier successes and some later reverses, the army of Italy has carried on the war with a spirit which has never failed and a determination which is the best omen of future victory. She entered the war at a moment when black clouds were lowering on the Eastern horizon, when Serbia was overrun, when Russian armies were hurled back, and when the winds of the storm were first heard and burst with such tremendous fury on Verdun. She is carrying on her campaign at the present moment with the same matchless ardor, defending their soil with the blood of her best citizens. We remember her sacrifices, her loyalty, her magnificent devotion to her own and our ideals, and we are proud to show our gratitude and our sympathy by that larger acknowledgment which insists on the closest union between the Italian people and ourselves."

So many nations and so many events have contributed to the winning of the war—and it is being won—it is going to require volumes to enumerate them and fix their relative importance.

But it isn't really necessary at this time to fix their relative importance;

all have given much and suffered much; all have helped and are helping to rid the world of its greatest enemy.

A REAL THANKSGIVING.

(Ohio State Journal)
Bulgaria has gone, Turkey has gone, Serbia has gone, Austria has gone, and Germany is going, and by Thanksgiving we will be thankful for the goodness of God in giving to humanity and civilization the triumph of the allied armies. There never was so fine a time for thanksgiving on earth since the morning stars sang together, and all the sons of God rejoiced for joy, except that the shoutings of men just arrived. We are ready for it. It will be due about Thanksgiving. Get your hearts ready for the joyous occasion, not because our foes are slain, but because righteousness and justice have got a good hold on the heart of humanity.

This is what makes Pepironi of wonderful therapeutic value, and so successful after influenza, the grippe and to nerve troubles, anemia, paleness, nervous weakness, and the exhausting worry and anxiety over the world war.

It is a real iron, blood and nerve tonic, especially beneficial in the debility following the influenza and grippe, worn-out, brain-fagged men, delicate women, school-tired girls and to feasting boys, invalids and convalescents, the aged and infirm. It actually puts iron, a natural strengthener, into the blood, and restores the wasted red corpuscles. Your druggist knows its great merit.

THE INFANTRY.

(Stars and Stripes)
Science and invention have given the modern soldier much machine guns, long range artillery, airplanes, tanks, gas. They have added skills they have made war superficially different, but they have not changed its basic form.

The greatest instrument of the army of to-day, the instrument which stands out conspicuously above all others, is the same instrument which made or broke all armies of history—the infantry.

Everything in an army is subservient to the infantry. The artillery is to break down resistance, before it, the tanks are to clear the path, gas is to we see a combat airplane in a fight to the death far above us. It is clearing the sky so that observing airplanes can assist the artillery in assisting the infantry. Stevedores at a busy port work overtime to unload ships from a ship, engineers rush the shells by train to a railroad; ammunition trains carry them forward to the guns, the gunners fire them to blast a path ahead for the infantry, or to throw for a barrage to protest it.

Those are just simple examples. Sometimes the reasoning is more involved and complex, but it always, in this war as in all wars, leads to the infantry.

Pudding their way through rain or dust, fighting through sharpened or gas, the infantry is the sun of the planetary system of the army. The only services highly important as they all are, are merely subsidiary planets revolving about it.

The infantry is of that branch of the service which, in terms of military science, is defined as "the arm of accomplishment."

KAMERAD.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer)
There is a growing impression that the word "kamerad" is being not only overworked but debased. As Dr. Henry Van Dyke points out, comrad and comrade are admirable words and rich in fraternal meaning. "Kamerad" is a debased form of the French word, an emergency call, a cry for mercy, a frightened squawk. There is nothing more than fraternal about it. A comrade is the man beside you, shoulder to shoulder. He shares your hardships and your perils. His cause is your cause, and your fight is his fight. By no possible course of reasoning can an open enemy be a kamerad.

The German fighting man, when hard pressed, when cornered, when suddenly overcome by the sickness of fear and the nausea of approaching death, flings up his arms and screams like a hurt child. There is nothing more than this in the "kamerad" appeal. The German soldier regards it as an ingratiation word, an emergency claim to universal brotherhood, a knock at the door of mercy, a verbal life preserver.

If it is to be used in the present crisis as an admission of abject surrender, well and good, but there can be no comrade flavor about it. There must be no suspicion of fraternal camouflaging.

It might be well to revise a fine old adage into, "Beware the Huns crying 'Kamerad'."

Purges; Try NR

NR Tonight—Tomorrow Feel Right

It is a mistake to continually dose yourself with so-called laxative pills, calomel, oil purges and cathartics and force bowel action. It weakens the bowels and liver and makes constant dosing necessary.

Why don't you begin right today to overcome your constipation and get your system in such shape that daily purging will be unnecessary? Box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one each night for a week or so. NR Tablets do much more than merely cleanse the large bowel system. This medicine acts upon the digestive as well as eliminative organs—promotes good digestion, causes the body to get the nourishment from all the food you can give it, a good hearty appetite, strengthens the liver, overcomes biliousness, regulates kidney and bowel action and gives the whole body a thorough cleaning out. This accomplished you will not have to take medicine every day. An occasional NR tablet will keep you busy in the kitchen, but you may feel your best.

Try Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and prove this. It is the best bowel medicine that you can use and costs only 25c per box, containing enough to last twenty-five days. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is safe, tested and recommended by your druggist.

In Memory of Our Loved One—Mrs. F. J. Umstot.

Another beautiful life has ended—A faithful soul has flown; A happy spirit has ascended, For God has called His own.

She is not dead, but sweetly sleeping,

At rest and her suffering o'er She's passed from earth to heaven— She's only gone "before."

She's crossed the silent river

Where the years of eternity roll, Where there's rest for the faithful In that beautiful home for the soul.

While living in hope, day after day,

Her health to gain, she suddenly passed away.

Husband and children, while you feel her loss,

God in His mercy will help you bear the cross.

Your hearts are crushed, all hope have flown;

Since she left, so lonely your home, The home circle broken, you'll miss her every day.

And the chair made vacant since she went away.

God loved her, too, and thought it best

To take her home to be at rest. She sleeps her last sleep, is free from pain,

And waiting in Edenland to meet her loved ones again.

Father, thy chastening rod, help them to bear,

Till in that Spariland they'll meet her there.

The Newark Indians "will hold fast, tail practice." They sat, glaring at Wehrle avenue and 1st street, New Haven, who were giving a football game. Ralph Hunter is manager of the team.

Obedient Snake.

An Indian had trained a blacksnake which he kept near him during the summer months. In the autumn he permitted it to crawl where it chose. He directed it, however, to return to him on a certain day in the spring. Notwithstanding the express commands of a white man he insisted that the creature would obey. Curiosity induced the white man to return to the Indian on the day he appointed for the snake's return. He was amazed to see the snake come crawling back to its master. It is likely, naturalists declare, that the Indian had noted the fact that blacksnakes usually return to their old haunts at the same vernal season. Experience had taught him that the snake would probably come back on a certain day to the place where it had been fed and cared for.

GET SALT FROM SEA WATER

Old Method of Obtaining Necessary of Life is Still Practiced in Various Places.

The use of salt for seasoning and preserving foods is so ancient that the earliest written records refer to it, says a writer in Popular Science Monthly. For many centuries practically all the salt used by the human race was procured by the evaporation of sea water.

This method of obtaining salt is still employed in many localities where the conditions are favorable. A flat stretch of sea coast and a hot and dry climate are necessary if salt is to be got from sea water. An ideal locality for this industry is the coast on the Bay of Cadiz, Spain.

The sea water is allowed to collect in shallow basins, barely above high-water mark. As the water evaporates the various salts contained in the sea water crystallize out and form a crust, which is removed and shoveled in small heaps. There the salts undergo the first stage of purification.

The edible salt is drained from the other salts, which constitute the greater part of the impurities. The edible salt crystallizes out first, while the other salts retain the water and form a concentrated brine which is allowed to run into ditches dug for that purpose.

The partly purified salt is then gathered into large heaps. Occasional rains wash out the more easily soluble impurities, and the hot sun dries the salt on the surface of the pile. Although it still contains about 15 percent of impurities it is shipped in large quantities without further refining.

Unpleasant Remarks.

Never tell anybody an unpleasant truth when it can answer no good purpose. This sort of unnecessary candor is sometimes prompted by malice, sometimes by a mere looseness of tongue. Sydney Smith says, and very justly, that friendship is frequently made an excuse for unkindly impudence by people who pride themselves on speaking their minds freely.

The truth, maliciously spoken, may be libelous; and when volunteered in relation to matters with which the utterer has no concern, it is very often unmanly. As surely as pleasant truths kindly meant and said are passports to friendship and affection, so surely do bitter ones provoke the enmity and hatred of those to whom they are addressed. If you have a taste for sharp repartee, restrain it. It is better to lose a jest than a friend—to miss an opportunity of saying "a good thing" than to make an enemy.

Pretty Names Given Flowers.

The "Virgin Mary's Milk Drop," has a white spotted leaf and the Balsam is a "Jacob's Ladder." Many other flowers also have a spice or pietra in their names, probably because generations ago the monks healed the body as well as the mind, and being skillful healers, named the flowers from which they brewed their simples and cordials. The "Lady," therefore in "Lady Slipper," "Lady's Smock," and "Lady's Bedstraw" means "Our Lady," who is again signified in "Rosemary" and "Marybuds," while "St. John's Wort," with its golden crowns, and "Crosswort" with its ivy crosses, are very aptly named. But while the monks practiced piety even in their flower names, the common people believed in fairies and the like and practically imagined that certain flowers were for fairy use. So the barrel became the "Fairycap" and the Medicick's tiny bouquet of wee golden blossoms descended to us as a "Fairies Cheesecake." Nor is the gentle passion forgotten, as "Love in a mist," and "Love lies bleeding" testify; while surely "Lads' Love" is as great as the memory of a first love.

Liberty-Loving Aleuts.

The Aleutian Islands, which extend in a chain east and west for more than a thousand miles, are inhabited by the remnants of the Aleuts. Their war of revolution closed about the time the American Revolutionary war began. So persistent were the Aleuts in their struggle for independence that they succumbed to the Russians only after a conflict of nearly fifty years, and then chiefly because the race was well-nigh exterminated in the struggle.
While the Aleutian Islands must eventually form an important link in the commerce between the United States and the Orient, other islands link our country with the great empire to the north. In the narrow Bering strait lie two little islands, one occupied by Russia, the other by the United States, so that citizens of the two

BREAKS A COLD IN A FEW HOURS

First dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" relieves all grippe misery.

Don't stay stuffed up!
Quit blowing and sniffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end grippe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged up nostrils and passages, stops noisy discharge of nose running; relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness. "Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Don't accept a substitute.—Advt.

2000 POUNDS FRUIT PITS GATHERED HERE

The Red Cross has been busy in the county the past few weeks and the people of the city have responded generously to appeals for linen and for clothing for the people of Belgium and northern France.

Last week over 2000 pounds of fruit pits and nutshells, enough for 300 gas masks, were shipped. To the head quarters in Cleveland the following linen articles collected during October were shipped: Handkerchiefs, 197 sheets, 51; pillowcases, 21; towels, hand, 151; Turkish towels, 90; table napkins, 425; wash cloths, five.

The response to the appeal for clothing for the war stricken people of Belgium and northern France was most generous.

The receiving, packing and shipping of this amount of material was a very heavy task. A large part of it was done by the Women's Relief corps, who stood faithfully by until finished.

A Painter, with his manual training classes, started the work of closing up the cases. The boys were enthusiastic but as schools were dismissed it was impossible for them to continue. R. M.
Davidson, who has had full charge of all shipments made by the Licking county chapter in the last nine months, then took the matter in hand, finished the work and made the shipments.

WANT VOLUNTEERS FOR MOTOR TRANSPORT CO.

The local draft board is busy finishing up the work of the questionnaires preparatory to the physical examination of the men.

Numerous bulletins were received from the war department today. One of them announces that through special order of the secretary of war through the chief of staff the motor transport corps is authorized to induce volunteers into that branch of the service.

All class A men can volunteer for the service if they are physically fit.
Limited or special service men rejected
on account of feeble health, broken arches, or minor defects and eligible. Men six feet needed for this department and will be sent overseas in 90 days.

Another bulletin deals with the application of civilians for commissions.

The orders state that in order to aid in the procuring of officers for the army excepting medical officers, dentists, veterinarians, officer of the Railroad Transportation corps and for the Judge Advocate General's department, the procedure has been assigned to a division of the selection personnel of the Operating Division of the General Staff. They will work through the agency of Military Training Camp Association and other civic organization.

Mailing Photographs.

There are no doubt many photographers who send their prints to the press and know that unless they put a piece of cardboard in the envelope it is nearly certain that the print will be crumpled or bear slight impression of the postmark before it reaches its destination. But how many know how to place the cardboard in the envelope in the proper way? The right way to do it is first to put the cardboard in, then place the photograph in so that it comes between the back of the envelope (i.e. the side where the flap is) and the cardboard. If it is put in in this order it will be found that when the postmark is stamped on the envelope it will not leave any impression on the cardboard, thus saving the print.

Aerolite Mystery.

Two vagrants in England one night found shelter in a barn. In the morning one of them was found lifeless with severe injuries about his head.
His companion was arrested and told a story to the effect that the dead man had been killed by a thunderbolt.
His statement was not credited, however, and he was sentenced to death for the supposed crime. Meanwhile a scientist had discovered a hole in the roof of the barn and an aerolite near the spot where the dead man had slept. This discovery established the innocence of the accused and he was released.

PLANNED TO LIFT INFLUENZA BAN

Sudden Increase of New Cases from 54 to 78
Causes Postponement.

Although the Board of Health had announced holding a meeting to lift the "flu" ban, the sudden jump in the number of new cases being reported, caused the board to postpone.

From the 54 new cases reported on Saturday, the number increased to 78 on Sunday, with a like amount of new cases for yesterday.

The board met Saturday night and adjourned to meet Tuesday to take action, however the increase of 60 per cent in twenty four hours caused no action to be taken. It is probable a meeting may be held the latter part of the week, if the conditions are improved.

Tuesday struck the low mark for deaths, the only two reported from influenza being Alva P. Gundy, 34 1/2
West Church street and Miss Dorothy Shields, 31 Franklin street.

Miss Ferhurst, superintendent of the hospital today stated that since Sunday the hospital had dismissed 19 cases of influenza as cured, and that only 8 cases now at the institution and that these are convalescent.

All class A men can volunteer for
the service if they are physically fit.
Limited or special service men rejected
on account of feeble health, broken arches,
or minor defects and eligible. Men six feet needed for this department and will be sent overseas in 90 days.

tion of civilians for commissions.

in the procuring of officers for the
army excepting medical officers, dentists, veterinarians, officer of the Rail-

ALVA P. GUNDY IS INFLUENZA VICTIM

Alva P. Gundy, aged 34, died last night at 10:30 o'clock at the home of his mother, Mrs. Charles Cady, 172 West Church street, after an eleven days' illness of influenza. Surviving is his wife, his mother, his father, Alva Gundy, 27 1/2 West Main street, one son, one brother, Denner C. Gundy, who is in France.

Funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Criss Bros. establishment. Rev. Mr. Hadlett will officiate.
Interment will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

JEFFERSON STREET BOY IS KILLED IN ACTION

In today's casualty list another New man, Alvin King, listed as killed in action. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs.
William F. King of 9 Jefferson street, and official notification was received by the family last week.

He was 21 years old and was a member of a machine gun squad with the 145th regiment, 37th division. He left for France July 1.

lagher, pastor of Corpus Christi church,
this city, former secretary of Archbishop Henry F. Moeller of Cincinnati and at one time pastor of Springfield church, is dying. He contracted influenza while ministering to the wants of his parishioners and pneumonia set in from which his physicians say he can not recover. His death is momentarily expected. Father Gallagher is one of the best-known clergymen in the Catholic church in Ohio.

Admiral Milne has been named governor of the island, while Admiral Gaspar has been appointed governor of the city

YANKEE, GUEST IN FRENCH HOME BURNS LIGHT TO ADMIRE BEDROOM

Swimming Pool Under Bedroom Floor and Breakfast Served in Bed Were Some of Luxuries Temporarily Enjoyed—Describes Trip to Front.

The novel, not to say, exciting experience of going into battle for the first time, fades into insignificance when compared to a billet in a French chateau of the better type, judging from a diary-letter written by First Lieutenant Shepard Smoots, nephew of A. E. Smoots of Granville. Lieutenant Smoots is a Cleveland boy, his father being a commission merchant in that city.

While his command was being transported across France from the training area to the "jumping off place" in the front line, Smoots recorded his experiences in chronological order, adding interest to the letter by touches of Yankee humor which has been the bane of the French and British soldiers with whom Americans have fought.

As the letter was finished, Smoots' command was ready for the big drive, probably the beginning of the present American offensive north of Verdun, though Smoots' letter carefully avoids too much detail. The letter follows:

"September 19th. Written on train on Way to Front.—Before I start to describe this trip to the front, will describe a trip to Rennes last Saturday and Sunday. Bill Bennett and I started to Rennes about 39 miles from Peltam for a week-end. Upon arrival we went to the Hotel Modern for rooms. They informed us that they were filled up, whereupon two French boys, 12 and 16 years old, after considerable conversation managed to get across the information which the wanted us to investigate. Bill said, 'We'll take a walk around and see what we can get into.' So we tramped along through a narrow street through a gate and into a beautiful garden. So far, very good. At the door we were met by two attractive women, one apparently the mother of the two boys. They ushered us into a wonderful parlor, shooting French over our heads at a two minute clip, and served us drinks, a French custom. We can at least always understand a drink.

"They seemed disappointed that we were so dumb about French, but occasionally when we could catch a phrase or sentence and would answer in our primitive French, they seemed pleased. Finally it filtered through our solid ivory brains, that they wanted to show us our rooms. And oh, those rooms, you should see them. I will not attempt to describe them, but those rare furnishings are beyond my power of appreciation. One room entirely in gold, panels, gold trimmings and heavily carpeted. Tapestries and drapes were of old rose. The bed had an old rose silk canopy with a spread of the same material covered entirely with lace, which any woman in America would give her last sou for. The cover was of down about a foot thick and the sheets of fine linen. The other room was practically the same except dark oak, with brown trimmings. Both rooms were fully 20 feet square with high ceilings.

"We said, 'Combien,' which means how much, and they were off again. After fully twenty minutes of difficult discussion, aided by frequent references to dictionary, we gathered the following information: The mother of the boy was a countess. Her husband had been killed August 23, 1914 at the very beginning of the war. She loved him very much, very much. It would be a privilege and a pleasure if the American officers would consent to be their guests during their visit, and dinner was awaiting.

"Bill and I had a meeting of the board of strategy on the spot in English, and decided to see it through to the finish. During the dinner the older lady disclosed her identity, as a Persian gulf friend of the countess and wife of a celebrated artist. During the evening, we conversed lightly on the war and the wonders of American and France before the war.

"I slept in the white room and Bill in the brown room. We both left the lights burning so we could admire the surroundings—if we awoke during the night.

"In the morning one of the sons came in and pointed out our baths. Wonderful to tell about. A rug rolled back and a grating removed and there was a swimming pool in both rooms, the mightiest of all, and this the bath room, are very rare in France, apparently the people do not believe in baths. The boy informed us that breakfast would be served us in bed, if we so desired. Bill got into bed and petted the jauner, appeared.

"During the meal Bill said, 'Shen, if our dads could see us now!' We could both almost see them standing at the foot of the bed and hear just what they would say. Bill's father is president of the Nickel Plate railroad.

"That afternoon we went for a ride in the countess' car and toward evening returned to Phelan, pronounced 'Gee! I'd fail for half that amount.'

"This morning we received orders to entrain. We left Phelan at dusk and went across the country nine miles to Gare, a railroad station, to load. We arrived there at 10 p.m. Immediately started to load our 200 horses and 32 combat wagons. Lumber type, which are of two parts each, and five other vehicles, including water cars, rolling kitchens and escort wagons. Our train consisted of 50 cars, but we could not get all our wagons on and had to leave seven behind for the next company to bring along. A French box car will hold eight horses and no more. All are the same size, 20x25 feet long. Some we could get two wagons on, some only one and a half. These same box cars which hold eight horses have a capacity of 30 to 40 French men, but we refuse to put over 20 men in them. For the officers, there is one first-class compartment, the seats can be pulled out and an additional six inches and the arms raised making a good sleeping place when there are not over two men in a compartment. One for each side.

"It required about four hours to load last night. We could have loaded in half that time, but were delayed by the train crew. These French have no idea of the value of time. Probably that is one reason why the war has lasted four years. At 5 this morning we were on our way. One most important feature I neglected to mention, was the work of the Y.W.C.A. They have a hut at the station in a cold and drizzling rain two ladies came out at 1 o'clock a.m. and personally served hot coffee to all our men. Their efforts were certainly appreciated.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested foods, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calozel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without giving cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists have them.

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid soap, apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid soap at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.
